

Maintain sustained eye contact: hold eye contact for entire sentence and 5 other people will think they are in eye contact with me.

Ask before I tell:
hold students accountable for reading material

Create a structure for notetaking (organize around questions)

Let readings share the lectern (ask them questions they can answer if they've done the reading).

Call on a student every 2-3 minutes (use deck of cards & include my name so they can ask questions of me)

Quiz students on what they've learned through lecture (can be minute paper)

Pause at least once for 2 full minutes

Assign lecture ballots

Think-Pair-Share
Have students find the answer in the textbook
