Repeating Graduate Courses

Graduate students may repeat graduate courses in which a grade of D, F, or NC was received. Both the original grade and the repeated grade will be recorded on the transcript and will be included in the computation of the graduate GPA. If the grade earned for the repeated course is a C or better, the course and the semester hours may be applied to the degree or certificate program. If the grade for the repeated course is less than a C, neither the course nor the semester hours may be applied to the degree or certificate program.

With prior approval of the academic program, graduate students may repeat any course numbered 4750 or above in which a grade of A, B, C, or CR was previously earned and which is not normally repeated. Both the original grade and the repeated grade will be recorded on the transcript and included in the calculation of the graduate grade point average; however, the repeated course credit will not count toward degree requirements.
