Eastern Illinois University English Department Disposition Evaluation Rubric for Cooperating Teachers Candidate Instructions

Purpose: Eastern Illinois University adheres to the following belief: "a student teaching candidate can have excellent content knowledge, but if he/she does not display positive dispositions for successful teaching and learning, the candidate will not be successful in the profession of teaching." As a part of our dedication to ensuring that all student teaching candidates possess the necessary dispositional skills to be successful in the classroom, the university has decided that all methods students should be assessed in the five core dispositional areas in their methods classes. This evaluation, completed by your cooperating teacher(s) in the field, allows methods instructors to more accurately assess your dispositions. The feedback provided on this form, along with the dispositions you display throughout your methods coursework, will determine your final dispositions assessment for this course.

Directions: Please read the following directions carefully to ensure that you properly follow the protocol for completing this evaluation.

- The attached form will need to be given to EACH teacher you observe during your five clinical experience hours. (As such, it is suggested that you make multiple copies of this form before entering the secondary building you will observe in incase you are placed in more than one room for your field work experience). Please ensure that you record all of the information at the bottom of the form (your name, the teacher's name, the school, the school address) prior to handing them the form. Not doing so could result in you not getting credit for the assessment if it is submitted blank.
- EACH evaluation form must be accompanied with a blank envelope for submission. (Again, it is suggested that you have multiple envelopes on hand during your observations).
- After you have completed observing a specific teacher, you will provide him/her with BOTH the disposition evaluation rubric and a blank envelope. (The directions are provided at the top of the form for the cooperating teacher).
- After the cooperating teacher is finished assessing you, he/she will place the evaluation form in the blank envelope you provided and sign along the seal to ensure that confidentiality has not been compromised and you have not been able to review the contents of the evaluation. DO NOT LEAVE THIS FORM WITH THE COOPERATING TEACHER and DO NOT EXPECT THEM TO MAIL THIS FORM IN FOR YOU as the directions to not state to do this (and no mailing address is provided). You should have this completed evaluation (inside the envelope) in your possession by the time you leave this teacher on the LAST day of your observation with him/her.
- Once your observation hours are complete and your disposition evaluation forms have been collected, these will be turned in to your methods instructor per his/her instructions. Keep these forms safe until you have been instructed to turn them in. Place your name on the front of the envelope housing the disposition evaluation form (on the opposite side of the envelope where the cooperating teacher signed). Remember that your observation hours should be completed prior to the due date listed on the syllabus for the draft of the pedagogy reflection essay.
