

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN BUSINESS - ACCOUNTANCY

ENHANCING EDUCATION BY HELPING OTHERS

Accountancy is a dynamic, rewarding, and respected profession responsible for recording, reporting, and analyzing financial information. Accountants prepare financial statements, analyze financial data, audit financial records, assure that financial activities are in compliance with regulations, and provide tax planning and consulting services. Accountants serve as valuable members of management and as trusted advisers to individuals and organizations.

Accountants who work in public accounting generally serve many clients. Currently, more than 46,000 public accounting firms – ranging in size from small local practices to large international firms – operate in the United States. Accountants also work in businesses, governments, and non-profit organizations.
